Description

GIVI is always attentive to the quality level of its products and at the same time distinguished for the unique style of its creations. This happens also for the universal fairings for traditional bikes that optimizes the correlation of price and quality without compromising the stylish and sporty design. Each version is made with a painted lower section in specific colors and assembled to a small smoked plexiglass screen. The functionality of these items is guaranteed by the use of universal fitting kits that make the fitting extremely quick and easy.
